

UCSF GME DISASTER PLANNING POLICY

I. Statement of policy

UCSF institutions and affiliates have each developed plans to guide institutional responses to local extreme emergent situations and disasters. In the event of a widespread emergency affecting operations, the extent to which a particular situation constitutes a local extreme emergent situation or disaster will be determined with reference to those institutional policies and plans. This GME Disaster Planning Policy is intended to augment existing institutional plans, focusing specifically on residents and fellows (trainees) in graduate medical education programs sponsored by the UCSF School of Medicine. The Policy is guided by the following principles:

- a. UCSF is committed to ensuring a safe, organized and effective environment for training of its residents and fellows;
- b. UCSF recognizes the importance of physicians at all levels of training in the provision of emergency care in the case of a local extreme emergent situation of any kind or a disaster;
- c. Decisions regarding initial and continuing deployment of residents and fellows in the provision of medical care during a local extreme emergent situation or disaster will be made taking into consideration the importance of providing emergency medical care; the continuing educational needs of the trainees; and the health and safety of the trainees and their families.
